Term premium by insurers may see further hike

SURABHI
New Delhi, May 29

TERM INSURANCE PREMIUM could see another hike this year with at least a few insurers mulling an increase in rates. However, in some relief to customers, the quantum of increase may not be as high as in the past few years. The increase is likely to be in the 5-8% range this time.

According to industry sources, a number of insurers are mulling an increase in the premium rates this year with the expected normalisation of the industry after two years of high claims from the Covid-19 pandemic.

"The past two years have seen high claims for the life insurance industry due to the pandemic. While reinsurers had increased rates, some insurers chose not to absorb it at that time and not burden the customer," said an insurer, adding that some of these firms are now planning to hike rates in the next few months.

According to industry estimates, term insurance premium has risen by about 45% over the last two to two-and-a-half years as reinsurers had increased their rates and tightened underwriting due to the high mortality and unprecedented claims during the pandemic.

Another insurer said that a few firms are looking at a hike in the premium rate for term insurance in the near future. "However, unlike in previous years, this time, the increase would be in single digits," he said, adding that the increase in term cover premiums is due to the increase in reinsurer rates in the last few years during the pandemic.

Urban unemployment hits new low of 6.8% in Jan-Mar

Lowest NERF since the launch of the PLFS survey

SURABHI
New Delhi, May 29

THE URBAN UNEMPLOYMENT rate dipped further in the January to March 2023 quarter, according to the periodic labour force survey and declined for the seventh straight quarter, indicating that the urban labour market is on the path to recovery after the pandemic.

The unemployment rate in current weekly status (CWS) for persons of age 15 years and above in urban areas declined to 6.8% in the January to March 2023 quarter, belying concerns about a slowdown in economic activities.

This was the lowest quarterly unemployment rate since the inception of the survey.

GDP data for the fourth quarter, which will be released on May 31, will provide key indicators on how the economy performed.

Job creation is expected to be a key issue in the spate of state elections coming up. The unemployment rate was at 7.2% in the two preceding quarters and at 8.2% in the January-March 2022 quarter.

It has been on a declining trajectory since April to June 2021 when it touched 12.6%. It had hit a record high of 20.8% in the April to June 2020 quarter due to the national lockdown during the Covid-19 pandemic.

The unemployment rate is defined as the percentage of persons unemployed among the persons in the labour force.

The activity status determined on the basis of a reference period of last seven days preceding the date of survey is known as the CWS of the person.

According to the PLFS data released by the ministry of statistics and programme implementation on Monday, the difference in employment trends for men and women continued.

The unemployment rate amongst men above 15 years of age in urban areas was even lower at 6% in the January to March 2023 quarter as against 6.5% in the October to December 2022 quarter.

For women, it was much higher at 9.2%, marginally lower than 9.6% in the previous quarter.

The urban labour force participation rate (LFPR) for all ages, however, inched up to a high of 38.1% in the fourth quarter of last fiscal from 37.9% in the October to December 2022 period.

The urban LFPR for persons above 15 years of age was even higher at 48.5% in the fourth quarter of FY23.

LFPR is defined as the percentage of persons in labour force (that is working or seeking or available for work) in the population.

The LFPR for males above the age of 15 years in urban areas was significantly high at 73.5% while for women it was at 22.7%. It was almost at the same level at 73.3% for men and 22.3% for women in the previous quarter.

The share of helpers in household enterprises, which translates to unpaid family labour, rose to 6.1% in the January to March 2023 quarter from 5.9% in the previous quarter, indicating continued pain in the labour markets.

About 48.9% of the persons above 15 years of age in urban areas were in regular or wage salaried jobs while 11.7% were casual labour in the quarter ended March 31, 2023. About 39.5% of the persons were self-employed while 32.7% persons were own account workers.

The PLFS is conducted by the National Sample Survey Office to estimate the key employment indicators at an interval of three months for urban areas only.

The data is however, at variance with more high frequency indicators such as the EPFO's payroll data that has shown a decline in formal sector employment in recent months. Joblessness as measured by the CMIE all India Unemployment Rate rose to a four-month high of 8.11% in April with more people joining the workforce in the month.

A recent report by the Indian Staffing Federation also reported a 14% year on year growth in flexi staffing in 2022-23 with 0.17 million new jobs created in the segment as against 0.23 million jobs added in 2021-22, when the industry registered a 21.9% growth.

G20 members working to define startups

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, May 29

THE STARTUP20, THE startup engagement group of G-20, will meet in Goa this weekend to arrive at a definition framework for a startup across the member countries. This would help open up market access and avenues of finance for new companies in the group, a senior official said on Monday.

"It may not be feasible to have a common definition (of startup). The meeting in Goa on June 3-4 will try to come up with a definition framework that is applicable across the countries of G-20," Startup20 India chair and mission director Atal Innovation Mission, Niti Aayog, Chintan Vaishnav told mediapersons.

The focal point of the meeting will be to build consensus on the Draft Policy Communique, which the Startup20 recently published, asking the public for feedback. After the Goa meeting, the group will finalise the communique and take it to the Gurugram meet on July 3-4.

Once the definition framework of a startup is laid down, the engagement group has drawn up a list of support measures that should be extended to the sector based on the reports of its five task forces on Foundation, Alliances, Finance, Inclusion and Sustainability.

These measures have been included in the Draft Policy Communique. The Alliances taskforce recommendations that form part of the draft communique for Goa include adopting key startup-specific policies, local regulations, and best practices that enable startups to smoothly access markets across G20 nations and even give them access to government contracts.

For hand holding startups in accessing markets across G-20, the draft communique also talks of designated government or private agencies.

"Under alliances, the countries are trying to ensure that there is some form of platform to promote cooperation between key stakeholders of the startup ecosystem such as incubators and regulators," Vaishnav said.

Startup investment culture in Guj needs to improve: Experts

ABHINAV KUMAR
Ahmedabad, May 29

GUJARAT IS AMONG the best performers for providing a supportive environment for start-ups to grow, however, experts believe that the investment culture in the state's startup ecosystem needs to improve.

"How a nation or state performs in any sector depends on the culture in the industry. Startup culture is not about money only, along with funds, it also includes networking, market reach, mentorship and hand-holding of the idea," said Jatin Trivedi, president, The Indus Entrepreneurs (TiE) Ahmedabad, a global non-profit venture devoted to entrepreneurs in all industries.

According to the states' startups ranking report, 2021 published by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), ministry of commerce and industry, Gujarat is the best performing state among the category A or big states. The report said that the state scored 100 percentile in capacity building and access to market but the score for mentorship support is zero percentile.

Trivedi said the startup ecosystem in the state is good and currently stable but it needs to be improved so the industry can be stable and in good health. "Because the traditional investment opportunities like real estate and stock market are prevalent among investors, the tendency of treating startups as investment opportunities only exists in the state. But it is witnessing a shift. Investors should hand-hold and guide the startup idea using his own expertise."

"The start-up ecosystem has seen slow and steady growth in Gujarat. The entrepreneurial culture among Gujaratis has kept them a little reluctant towards new technologies, but the new generation is more open-minded about business. They are willing to accept investors as business partners," said Mihir Joshi, Chief Executive Officer, Ahmedabad based venture fund, GVFL Limited.

The DPIIT report also stated that there are a total 4,920 start-ups in the state which are recognised by DPIIT. In 2021, the department registered 1,717 start-ups originating from Gujarat while in 2022 the number reduced to 973 start-ups. It may be mentioned that this decrease is not limited to Gujarat only; rather the overall registrations of start-ups in the country decreased to 12,314 in 2022 against 20,160 in 2021.

Talking to FE, Trivedi said, "The tech-revolution has extended the use of technology to all sectors of the economy which is why investors should look at start-ups as new and emerging areas. When it is about start-ups, there is a gap of experience and expertise in the sector and the investor should bridge that gap by coming forward."
